

GOVOLOGY &

PEDCO PTAC

PONCA ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION
PROCUREMENT TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE CENTER

This Procurement Technical Assistance Center is funded in part through a cooperative agreement with the Defense Logistics Agency.

present

The Concept of “Responsibility” in Government Contracting

To be awarded a government contract, a company must do more than submit the winning proposal — it must be “responsible.” The concept of responsibility in government contracting is far-reaching and can include such things as having adequate financial resources, a satisfactory ethical record, past performance, and even security clearances. In this webinar, government contracts attorneys Steven Koprince and Chris Coleman (Koprince Law LLC) cover the all-important concept of responsibility in government contracting. You will learn:

- how responsibility is evaluated;
- when contractors can provide information regarding responsibility;
- the special ability of small businesses to challenge adverse responsibility determinations at the SBA, and much more.

Target Audience: Companies pursuing federal contracting opportunities

Date: July 15, 2021

Time: 12:00 pm—1:30 pm (CST)

Cost: Free to PEDCO PTAC clients (contact PEDCO PTAC for details)

Registration link: <https://govology.com/product/the-concept-of-responsibility-in-government-contracting/>

Presenter: STEVEN KOPRINCE, founder of Koprince Law LLC

Steven Koprince is the founder of Koprince Law LLC and a Senior Partner with the firm. Steven’s legal practice is devoted exclusively to helping clients achieve their federal government contracting goals. Steven is the author of The Small-Business Guide to Government Contracts (AMACOM Books, 2012) and his articles have appeared in several leading industry and legal publications, including Contract Management Magazine and The Procurement Lawyer.